These later years include a variety of semi experimental escapements as well as covering the development of the precision watch and work leading to it by Ferdinand Berthoud and Pierre Le Roy discussed alongside John Arnold in England to satisfy the technical minded collector Horology and collecting have grown with the changing technologies and watches continue to be produced to an exceptional technological standard Precision watches from the 1730 1930 period are covered in detail as well as high standard Swiss and American watches of the last hundred years these highly complicated watches benefit greatly from having both colour and mono illustrations to clarify the details

Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents.
