

A close-up photograph of a brown spider on its web. The spider is positioned in the center-right of the frame, with its long, hairy legs spread out. The web is a complex, multi-layered structure of fine, silken threads. In the foreground, a cicada nymph is visible, partially obscured by the web. The background is dark and out of focus, with some green leaves visible at the top. The overall scene is set in a natural, outdoor environment.
