Where The Waves Fall:

Where the Waves Fall K.R. Howe,2023-05-03 Where the Waves Fall 1984 centres the stories of the Pacific Islanders and how they were affected by European explorers and colonisers in this unique account of human settlement and cultural interchange in the Pacific islands It follows the fortunes of the seafarers who discovered island after island in the world s largest ocean traces the development of their civilisations and examines in depth the interaction between them and the newcomers European explorers traders beachcombers missionaries merchants who from the sixteenth century came in an increasing series of waves The book s framework enables the author to throw new light on hitherto isolated events Novel suggestions are advanced as to why some islands became kingdoms in the earlier years of European contact and why others did not and of how and why missionaries were accepted on some islands but not on others Nor does Professor Howe shrink from provocative and at times controversial arguments concerning the ambitions and strategies of island leaders and indeed the overall nature and extent of the initiatives taken by the islanders

Where the Waves Fall South Sea Islands History K. R. Howe,1984 Texts and Contexts Doug Munro,Brij V. Lal,2005-11-30 Texts and Contexts is concerned with the development of Pacific Islands history as a specialization in its own right Specifically this volume examines the foundational texts that pioneered and consolidated the new subdiscipline and served as the building blocks and stepping stone for further developments in the field Thirty five texts all of which represent defining points in the development of Pacific Islands historiography are examined Much more than retrospective appraisals of the foundational texts the individual chapters consider a text or complimentary texts within the context of the time of writing and gauge what ongoing influence they exerted In some cases they suggest how a particular text has been superseded by subsequent work that breaks new conceptual ground in the ongoing process of revisionism Contributors Chris Ballard on Gavin Souter Ivan Brady on Greg Denning I C Campbell on Norma McArthur Bronwen Douglas and Doug Munro on H E Maude and Dorothy Shineberg Michael Goldsmith on Marshall Sahlins David Hanlon on Francis X Hezel K R Howe on Andrew Sharp and David Lewis Brij V Lal on K L Gillion and Peter Corris Hugh Laracy on Niel Gunson and Ta unga Lamont Lindstrom on Peter Worsley and Peter Lawrence Doug Munro on Douglas L Oliver R P Gilson J W Davidson and K R Howe Vincent O Malley on Keith Sinclair and Alan Ward Jon Osorio on Ralph Kuykendall and Gavan Daws Tom Ryan on Bernard Smith Jane Samson on W P Morrell and Deryck Scarr Francis West on Francis West and Gavan Daws Glyndwr Williams on O H K Spate Changing Song Miriam Silverberg,2019-01-15 Nakano Sigeharu 1902 1979 leading twentieth century Japanese poet and social critic transformed the revolutionary culture movement of the 1920s Positioning Nakano s thought within the very history of Japanese Marxism Miriam Silverberg applies textual analyses to his pre war writings to form a new perspective on the history of the politics and culture of the Japanese left Her book relates Nakano to the Western Marxist tradition recognizes the existence of a Japanese Marxist theory of commodity culture and uses this theory to illuminate the era In particular Silverberg addresses how Nakano like his European contemporaries worked toward a critique of mass culture illustrating how Japanese thinkers in the 1920s and 1930s adopted Marxism as the dominant method of political and intellectual inquiry. This book draws on Marx's writings and those of Georg Lukacs, Walter Benjamin, Antonio Gramsci, Bertolt Brecht, and Mikhail Bakhtin to present Nakano as a Marxist critic and poet. Close reading of Nakano's essays, poems, most of them appearing for the first time in English fiction, and prison letters trace Nakano's changing song or consciousness through four stages from his discovery of history in the mid 1920s to his refusal to be silenced during the late 1930s when he produced a series of scathing attacks on intensifying state repression.

Miriam Silverberg is Assistant Professor of History at the University of California Los Angeles. This volume brings into focus the pivotal educational years during adolescence when many learners are exposed to implicit and explicit messages that STEM is not a viable educational pathway for them. Challenging this notion, Disrupting Secondary STEM Education brings together a collective of critical educators who share what disruptive STEM teaching looks and feels like from an insider perspective as well as the ways they purposefully create curriculum to subvert existing structures that can confine learning. Through disruptive STEM teaching a joy for learning is kindled as well as a sense of empowered criticality in students that can support their development as global citizens facing complex futures. The collection shares stories across a spectrum of educators from those beginning their teaching journey to those who've stood up against narrow curriculum and standardized testing for years in the capacity of both P-12 teachers and teacher educators. The voices of these educators illustrate how the work of disruptive STEM teaching can be actualized within cohorts of future teachers achieved through early engagement with critical theories and generative field experiences that support and affirm a wide array of identities. This book provides multiple theoretical and practical access points for the reader to understand the work of disruptive STEM teaching and offers a way forward for those interested in developing more critical curriculum in their own classrooms. As such it will be important reading for postgraduate students and researchers in Social Justice Education and STEM Education as well as for in-service educators.
