The Officers Camp:

The Officers Camp Giampiero Carocci,1997 The Officers Camp tells the story of Caro a young officer from Florence and his companions from the time of their capture by the advancing Germany army in the summer of 1943 until their release from a work camp almost two years later These men seem to have stumbled into their fate captured and transported to Germany their lives seem almost dreamlike and nothing stands out except when someone is killed or disappears or starves to death As the months of imprisonment mount and the officers are moved farther away from their homeland and into smaller and increasingly poorly run camps they are reduced to mere shells of humanity their hope preserved only by intense discussions of food and the swapping of elaborate recipes

The Camps of the Death Railway Ben Luto,John Grehan,2025-08-30 As the terrible conditions experienced by the British Australian Dutch and American PoWs in the building of railway linking Buma and Thailand became known as well as the appalling atrocities the men suffered at the hands of the Japanese it was clear that an investigation would have to be undertaken Before war trials began the Japanese submitted their account of the building of the railway which is presented here What is also presented are the stories from the prisoners themselves from each of the camps telling in stark unflinching detail what really happened to them Drawn entirely from first hand accounts a picture emerges of men being driven to very heavy manual labour without boots to protect their feet from injuries which resulted in tropical ulcers and the amputation of untreatable limbs with nothing but a wood saw Of men dying of cholera in their hundreds of stinking maggot ridden open latrines and campgrounds covered in faeces from dysentery sufferers With virtually no medical equipment or medicines the Allied medical officers faced an unwinnable battle to save the lives of men so weakened from hunger and unremitting work at times for eighteen hours a day they could not fight off the multiple diseases which were endemic in the depths of the Thai and Burmese jungles As more and more prisoners became ill the number available for work on the railway diminished But with orders to finish the railway ahead of time the Japanese forced prisoners from their hospital beds out to work many of whom never returned When Allied officers tried to intervene to protect their men they were subjected beating from the Japanese and Korean guards Other brutal punishments sometimes fatal were handed out to the prisoners frequently for no accountable reason Conditions were so intolerable some prisoners tried to escape only to die in the jungle or be recaptured and executed Others simply gave up all hope and died quite literally of despair There were of course lighter moments amid the misery Elephants were used to pull heavy logs When an extra load was added to that of one elephant the animal refused to move As the normal method adopted by the Japanese with uncooperative prisoners was to give them a beating one of the guards hit the elephant The elephant roared and charged after him chasing the terrified guard into the River Kwai and squirted water at him through his trunk Through sheer determination in some cases or mere good fortune many men survived the horrors of the camps to tell the world of what was one of the most dreadful humanitarian disasters of the Second World War This is their story
