

The background of the entire image is a photograph of a total solar eclipse. A large, dark, circular shadow of the moon is positioned in the center of the frame, completely obscuring the sun. The sky around the eclipse is a bright, glowing orange and yellow. In the foreground, the silhouettes of five people are visible, standing on a desert dune and looking towards the horizon. Some are holding up their phones or cameras to capture the event. The overall scene is dramatic and captures a rare astronomical phenomenon.
