Slave Day:

Negro Slavery in Arkansas Orville Taylor, 2000-07-01 Long out of print and found only in rare book stores it is now available to a contemporary audience with this new paperback edition When slavery was abolished by the Emancipation Proclamation there were slaves in every county of the state and almost half the population was directly involved in slavery as either a slave a slaveowner or a member of an owner's family Orville Taylor traces the growth of slavery from John Law's colony in the early eighteenth century through the French and Spanish colonial period territorial and statehood days to the beginning of the Civil War He describes the various facets of the institution including the slave trade work and overseers health and medical treatment food clothing housing marriage discipline and free blacks and manumission While drawing on unpublished material as appropriate the book is to a great extent based on original often previously unpublished sources Valuable to libraries historians in several areas of concentration and the general reader it gives due recognition to the significant place slavery occupied in the life and economy of antebellum Arkansas The Economy of Ancient Egypt Mahmoud Ezzamel, 2024-08-21 Taking ancient records as the starting point for analysis this book theorises the state administration and economy of ancient Egypt The Egyptian state is theorised as an administrative field of material and symbolic powers with emphasis upon the latter because it has received scant attention in Egyptology Maat truth fairness connective justice is theorised as symbolic power discursively authored disseminated and monitored by senior administrators who redefined its meaning to suit changes in the sociopolitical contexts The book examines the classification schemes of the Egyptian population devised by the administrative field of power and how they were used to differentiate hierarchise and fix specific individuals within clearly demarcated social and economic categories that aimed to fix the subjectivity of those assigned to each category Ancient Egyptian had a significant state economic sector and a private sector A multiplicity of sources of state economic resources are examined taxation impost war booty and tributes and gifts exchanged between the Egyptian kings and foreign kings A nuanced understanding of Polanyi's work on redistribution is used to theorise the cycle of levying collecting storing and redistributing tax revenues Exchanges of gifts between Egyptian kings and kings from Asia Minor are theorised as occurring on a stage of institutional drama war booty as an economy of force and tribute as an economy of restitution Private exchange is theorised by developing the concept of sociable markets and drawing on Maat in its various meanings as truth fairness and connective justice This book will be of interest to readers in the fields of economic history ancient Egypt and ancient history more broadly Suburban Empire Lauren Hirshberg, 2022-02-15 Suburban Empire takes readers to the US missile base at Kwajalein Atoll in the Marshall Islands at the matrix of postwar US imperial expansion the Cold War nuclear arms race and the tide of anti colonial struggles rippling across the world Hirshberg shows that the displacement of indigenous Marshallese within Kwajalein Atoll mirrors the segregation and spatial politics of the mainland US as local and global iterations of US empire took hold Tracing how Marshall Islanders navigated US military control over their lands Suburban Empire reveals that Cold War era suburbanization was perfectly congruent with US colonization military testing and nuclear fallout The structures of suburban segregation cloaked the destructive history of control and militarism under a veil of small town innocence My Kalulu, Prince, King, and Slave Henry Morton Stanley,1887 A novel by Henry Stanley regarding an African prince pressed into slavery Based on observations made during his historic search for Livingstone Jet ,1979-04-26 The weekly source of African American political and entertainment news Long Past Slavery Catherine A. Stewart,2016-02-05 From 1936 to 1939 the New Deal s Federal Writers Project collected life stories from more than 2 300 former African American slaves These narratives are now widely used as a source to understand the lived experience of those who made the transition from slavery to freedom But in this examination of the project and its legacy Catherine A Stewart shows it was the product of competing visions of the past as ex slaves memories of bondage emancipation and life as freedpeople were used to craft arguments for and against full inclusion of African Americans in society Stewart demonstrates how project administrators such as the folklorist John Lomax white and black interviewers including Zora Neale Hurston and the ex slaves themselves fought to shape understandings of black identity She reveals that some influential project employees were also members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy intent on memorializing the Old South Stewart places ex slaves at the center of debates over black citizenship to illuminate African Americans struggle to redefine their past as well as their future in the face of formidable opposition By shedding new light on a critically important episode in the history of race remembrance and the legacy of slavery in the United States Stewart compels readers to rethink a prominent archive used to construct that history I was Born a Slave Yuval Taylor,1999 The narratives in this volume include tales of Africa pirate ships wild animals witches a slave who had ten owners and another who led a rebellion that killed fifty five whites the kidnapping of a white woman and her rescue by a slave the nightmarish tortures of the infamous Mr Gooch the tragicomic experiences of a pair of white slaves and the story of the original Uncle Tom Littell's Living Age ,1879 The International Socialist Review ,1900 The Edinburgh Review ,1873 History of Washington County, Pennsylvania Boyd Crumrine,1882 The Arabian Nights' Entertainments ,1890 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain.
