Social Work And Housing:

Social Work, Housing, and Homelessness Robert Hagan, Anya Ahmed, 2025-03-19 Shelter is a basic human requirement yet housing in the UK has increasingly been perceived as an asset rather than the secure base everyone requires for their basic physical and mental health needs and well being This book examines how all types of housing have become precarious for many service users with whom social workers will engage and makes some suggestions regarding action and best practice Showing how people become homeless and the difficulties finding a way out of this the housing options for specific populations including care leavers those with disabilities families and older people will be examined All this will be framed in the context of social work practice building practitioner knowledge and confidence around an area that affects everyone but the significance of which is sometimes underexamined in holistic assessments Packed with reflective examples and case studies each chapter also includes a tuning in exercise to help prepare the reader for what the chapter will tackle with concluding thoughts on these exercises at the chapter end This book is suitable for both undergraduate and postgraduate social work students as they begin to think of more specialised areas of work in their second or subsequent years as well as social work practitioners who will be increasingly aware of the pressures of housing costs on those with whom they work

Social Work and Housing Gillian Stewart, John Stewart, 1993 Social Work and Housing written for students and practising social workers examines an important but hitherto neglected area Based on analyses of real cases the book develops understanding of clients housing circumstances and shows what positive help social workers can provide by integrating the knowledge and skills required with policy and practice analysis The authors placing their analysis in the context of feminist and class issues examine difficulties caused by the condition of housing its effect on health the breakdown of relationships between household members and the stigmatisation of clients because of where they live A welcome book in a very neglected area of social work Probation Journal

One Hundred Years of Social Work Therese Jennissen, Colleen Lundy, 2011-02-17 One Hundred Years of Social Work is the first comprehensive history of social work as a profession in English Canada Organized chronologically it provides a critical and compelling look at the internal struggles and debates in the social work profession over the course of a century and investigates the responses of social workers to several important events A central theme in the book is the long standing struggle of the professional association the Canadian Association of Social Workers and individual social workers to reconcile advancement of professional status with the promotion social action The book chronicles the early history of the secularization and professionalization of social work and examines social workers roles during both world wars the Depression and in the era of postwar reconstruction It includes sections on civil defence the Cold War unionization social work education regulation of the profession and other key developments up to the end of the twentieth century Drawing on extensive archival research as well as personal interviews and secondary literature the authors provide strong academic evidence of a profession that has endured many important changes and continues to advocate for a just society and a responsive social welfare state One Hundred Years of Social Work will be of interest to social workers social work students and educators social historians professional associations and anyone interested in understanding the complex nature of people and institutions Citizenship Social Work with Older People Malcolm Payne,2012-02-08 This title draws from existing social work practice ideas to develop a citizenship social work with older people Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work National Conference on Social Welfare,1886 Proceedings of the National Conference of Social Work at the ... Annual Session Held in ... National Conference of Social Work (U.S.). Annual Session,1926 Interprofessional Social Work Anne Quinney,Trish Hafford-Letchfield,2012-10-10 All Social Work students are required to undertake specific learning and assessment in partnership working and information sharing across professional disciplines and agencies Increasingly social workers are also finding that they need to deal with a wide range of other professions as part of their daily work It is essential therefore that social workers can work effectively and collaboratively with these professions while retaining their own values and identity This updated second edition will prepare social work students to work with a wide variety of professions including youth workers the police teachers and educators the legal profession and health professionals Social Work ,1959 Annual Report - Department of Social Services & Housing Hawaii.
