Routledge Handbook of African Social Work Education Susan Levy, Uzoma Odera Okoye, Pius T. Tanga, Richard Ingram, 2024-06-06. This timely Routledge Handbook creates a much needed space to explore what makes social work uniquely African as well as shaping, informing and influencing a new culturally relevant era of social work. The specific focus on social work education offers approaches to transition away from the hegemony of Western literature, knowledge and practice models underpinning African social work education. The authors identify what is relevant and meaningful to inform, influence and reconceptualise culturally relevant social work curriculum. Covering Botswana, Cameroon, Ethiopia, Ghana, Guinea, Kenya, Malawi, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia and Zimbabwe, the Handbook comprises both empirical and conceptual chapters, multiple approaches, case studies and key debates on social work education. It is structured in four parts: Approaches to Indigenising, Decolonising and Developing Culturally Relevant Social Work Education; Social Work Education Evolution across Contexts; Embedding Field Practicum into Social Work Education; Knowledge Exchange between the Global South and Global North. The range of indigenous local knowledge that the Handbook presents is crucial to social work evolving and facilitating for reciprocal learning and knowledge exchange between the Global South and Global North. Whilst the context of the Handbook is Africa, the topics covered are relevant to a global audience engaged in social justice work across social work, social welfare, social development and sustainability.

Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1991. Social Investment Jonathan Boston, Derek Gill, 2017-12-04. The idea of social investment has obvious intuitive appeal. But is it robust? Is it built on sound philosophical principles and secure analytical foundations? Will it deliver better outcomes? For almost a decade, the idea of social investment has been a major focus of New Zealand policy making and policy debate. The broad aim has been to address serious social problems and improve long term fiscal outcomes by drawing on big data and deploying various analytical techniques to enable more evidence informed policy interventions. But recent approaches to social investment have been controversial. In late 2017, the new Labour New Zealand First government announced a review of the previous government's policies. As ideas about social investment evolve, this book brings together leading academics, commentators and policy analysts from the public and private sectors to answer three big questions: How should social investment be defined and conceptualized? How should it be put into practice? In what policy domains can it be most productively applied? As governments in New Zealand and abroad continue to explore how best to tackle major social problems, this book is essential for people seeking to understand social policy in the twenty first century.
