Survival Imperative Using Space To Save Earth:

Non-use Measures for Global Goods and Commons in International Law Solène Guggisberg, Catherine

Blanchard, 2025-07-31 In a world facing major environmental crises radical measures are increasingly called for As a change in paradigm from our anthropocentric approach to the environment and its resources remains mostly aspirational non use measures present themselves as practical regulatory tools to respond to environmental degradation This edited volume examines moratoria bans no take or entry zones across regimes regulating global goods and commons It analyses factors that have contributed to the successful adoption and implementation of non use measures for resources in the high seas deep seabed atmosphere and Antarctica It then presents pathways for the development and adoption of further non use measures in these areas and in outer space before reflecting on such measures limitations and potential The Survival Imperative William E. Burrows, 2007-04-01 Using Space to Save Earth Veteran science journalist William E Burrows offers a bold new mission for the US space program to protect the Earth from the ever growing number of perils that threaten our way of life and even our very survival We are living through one of the most dangerous times in human history Nuclear chemical and biological weapons technology are proliferating and missile technology is falling into more and more hands Extreme natural disasters like hurricanes floods fires and earthquakes are becoming increasingly costly not only in dollars but in lives as population expands Environmental crises threaten to provoke massive famines and widespread social collapse Asteroids the size of battleships streak within striking distance of the earth every year One strategy offers the best hope of protecting us from all of these dangers a revitalized national space program that coordinates efforts in global defense in environmental protection in communications and in military security The Survival Imperative offers an impassioned argument for this bold initiative To demonstrate the urgency of his cause Burrows presents a vivid scenario an impact by a moderately large asteroid that triggers a series of nuclear exchanges environmental devastation and the slow disintegration of civilization And he examines the existing space program from the heady days of the Moon landing through the political compromises that have characterized the history of NASA in the 35 years following our retreat from the Moon Most of all Burrows warns that the primary obstacle to achieving a true planetary defense program is not financial or scientific but social an unwillingness to acknowledge the urgency of the crisis and to take the political risks needed to address it The question says Burrows is not whether we can do it but whether we will act before it s too late Aerospace America, 2003 Dark Skies Daniel Deudney, 2020 Dark Skies provides the first comprehensive and balanced assessment of the space enterprise past present and future It demolishes widely held optimistic assumptions about the desirability of many major space activities actual and prospective Most consequentially the hiding in plain sight use of outer space as a corridor for long range bombardment has increased the probability of catastrophic nuclear war Contrary to the widespread claim that sustainable colonies on other celestial bodies are necessary for human survival from large scale disasters on Earth Dark Skies shows that colonization itself poses many severe threats and should be avoided Instead an Earth oriented space program should be pursued The Rough Guide to Genes & Cloning Dr Jess Buxton,Jon Turney,2007-04-26 Presents information on cell structure DNA chromosomes genetics and family traits gene related health and behavior genetic technologies including cloning and the future of genetic medicine including stem cell research SCARY ROBOTS Lawrence J. Terlizzese,2020-09-20 Technophobia causes us to reflect to stop and ask what for Why are we doing this and could there be negative consequences to our actions Technophobia is not anti technology if we are honest no one is really anti technology that would be a rejection of life itself But neither does technophobia give the green light to all things technical An altogether too common position these days is to accept technology as manna from heaven as if just the very use of it will inherently lead us in the right direction All use is good use Technophobia does not allow us such an easy conscience First Things ,2007
