dissociation in a military setting and in other situations of extreme stress An outline of key issues for planning assessment of traumatic dissociation including a critique of its primary empirically supported standardized measures An examination of the association between child abuse or neglect and the development of eating disorders suggesting ways to therapeutically deal with negative body experience to reduce events that trigger dissociation A description of neuroendocrine alterations associated with stress pointing toward a better understanding of the developmental effects of deprivation and trauma on PTSD and dissociation A review of the relation of attachment and dissociation A discussion of new research findings in the neuroimaging of dissociation and a link between cerebellar functioning and specific peritraumatic experiences Useful as a clinical reference or as ancillary textbook Traumatic Dissociation reorganizes phenomenological observations that have been overlooked misunderstood or neglected in traditional training The research and clinical experience described here will provide the basis for further clinical and theoretical formulations of traumatic dissociation and will advance empirical examination and treatment of the phenomenon School Secretary's Survival Guide Muriel K.
