Susan Irvin's Rose Gardens:

Susan Irvine's Rose Gardens Susan Irvine, 1997 Written like a delightful novel by well known rose expert here is the story of the making of a garden Garden of a Thousand Roses Susan Irvine, 2003-01-01 Following the success of Susan Irvine's books Rose Gardens of Australia and The Garden at Forest Hall her readers will be happy to know that Garden of a Thousand Roses was the book that started it all and it is now back in print in a new improved edition Rose Gardens of Australia Susan Irvine, 1997 In Rose Gardens of Australia Susan Irvine explores over 30 of the country's finest gardens to discover which roses thrive in Australia and how rose lovers are growing them Everywhere she goes rose growers tell her how they planned and planted how they feed and prune their roses and which ones they love best As Susan Irvine encounters the roses growing in the gardens of Australia she discusses their history breeding and uses and suggests other roses that would suit similar gardens and climates She provides information on over 400 roses many of which are captured in 220 superb photographs and included in her comprehensive lists of roses to grow Rose Gardens of Australia is a distillation of everything Susan Irvine one of Australia's foremost rose experts and gardener writers has learnt from a lifelong passion for roses

Rose Gardens of Australia Susan Irvine, 2005 In Rose Gardens of Australia Susan Irvine explores over 30 of the country's finest gardens to discover which roses thrive in Australia and how rose lovers are growing them Everywhere she goes rose growers tell her how they planned and planted what allowances they made for the conditions of their region how they feed and prune their roses which roses they find most successful and which ones they love best Here are Rugosas and Banksia roses flourishing on the dry inland plains Minnie Watson blooming in the shade of an old colonial garden David Austin's Leander happily existing near the sea and Moonlight framing an urn in a formal city courtyard As Susan Irvine encounters the roses growing in the gardens of Australia she discusses their history breeding and uses and suggests other roses that would suit similar gardens and climates She provides information on over 400 roses many of which are captured in the 220 superb photographs by Simon Griffiths and included in her comprehensive lists of roses to grow

The Garden at Forest Hall Susan Irvine, 2003 The Old House at Forest Hall was almost derelict the garden beneath the blackberry could only be guessed at Besides Susan Irvine already had a renowned garden and she and Bill had no intention of shifting to Tasmania So of course they bought it The Garden at Forest Hall is the story of a special place and special island Susan Irvine's memoir is as personal and engrossing as the garden she builds Behind the pages can be glimpsed a master gardener who works intuitively letting the garden suggest itself over time rather than on the drawing board someone alive to the surprises and secrets an old garden only gradually reveals someone sensitive to the intentions and history of its first builders and sanguine about the depredations of wildlife and weather Rose lovers will appreciate the depth of knowledge Susan Irvine imparts with such casual grace and garden lovers will be inspired by the grand garden design captured in the atmospheric photography of Simon Griffiths

plants of people of beauty created and shared beauty which can be relived and enjoyed again years later In a mostly incomprehensible world a world increasingly dominated by cruelty and fear it is in gardens that many people seek and find even if temporarily peace and tranquillity In 1996 Susan Irvine and her husband bought Forest Hall a derelict property in the Tasmanian countryside and began the enormous task of restoring the house to its former grandeur For three years Susan kept a diary in which she recorded the challenges involved in trying to uncover the shape and beauty of the once extraordinary garden from beneath a confusion of weeds and rubble Magnificently illustrated with the photography of Simon Griffiths Rosehips and Crabapples will restore your faith in the power of gardening to draw people and communities together and will inspire you to pull on the gloves and get to work on your own garden creation Hillside of Roses Susan Irvine,2008-05 Once again Susan Irvine s delight in her garden and her plants transports the reader to her garden Her fans will not be disappointed and she will gain many new friends through this book This revised edition of the original 1994 publication features integrated colour throughout and includes an expanded section on the Australian roses of Alister Clark
