Strategy In The Missile Age:

Strategy in the Missile Age Bernard Brodie,1965 Project Rand Bernard Brodie,1959 Bernard Brodie and the Foundations of American Nuclear Strategy Barry Howard Steiner,1991 Steiner analyzes how and why Brodie s understanding of weapons of unparalleled explosive force led him to posit the need for revolutionary strategic thinking in broadminded analytic method and in the focus upon cities as nuclear targets He shows the tremendous effect Brodie s work had on the intellectual climate in which policy is determined particularly in his frequent combatting of conventional wisdom

State of Doom Barry Scott Zellen,2011-12-15 New Preface for Paperback Edition of "Strategy in the Missile Age" Bernard Brodie,1965 A discussion of the changes in circumstances and attitudes since publication of the original edition in 1959 The Foundations of US Air Doctrine Barry D. Watts,1985 This study analyzes airpower doctrine from the viewpoint of Clausewitzian friction The study concludes that American airpower doctrine has changed very little since the 1930s and that it is fundamentally flawed Soviet Strategy in the Missile Age Myles Paul Vayo,1963 Makers of Nuclear Strategy John Baylis,John Garnett,1991 This book deals with the very foundations of contemporary strategic studies in that it examines the ideas of nine leading strategic thinkers over the past four decades within the context of current debates on nuclear strategy Taiwan's Security and Air Power Martin Edmonds,Michael Tsai,2003-10-23 This volume brings together a range of experts from the West and from Taiwan itself who examine the key issues connected with Taiwan s air power which is a key aspect of the China Taiwan military balance Clausewitz and Strategy in the Missile Age: A Critique of Bernard Brodie's Strategic Thought ,1990 In the normal course of things it is modern commentators that critique their predecessors In the following pages I will turn this idea on its head by critically reviewing the strategic thought of Bernard Brodie 1910 1978 using the strategist thought of Carl von Clausewitz 1710 1831 as the basis for my critique Specifically I propose to compare their thought using four major criteria as a framework These criteria include what is war why employ military power when or under what conditions should military power be employed and how should military power be used To put this effort in proper perspective it is necessary first to say a few words about the lives and times of these two military thinkers Clausewitz lived his life over a hundred years before the advent of nuclear weapons he was a professional military officer for most of his life He knew war at first hand Brodie by contrast was an academic He never wore a uniform nor did he know from direct personnel experience about the horrors of war He was however associated throughout his life with military institutions He was in fact a member of the faculty that opened the National War College in 1946

Nuclear Fallacies Robert W. Malcolmson,1985-06-01 Malcolmson identifies changes in those realities and our perceptions and misperceptions of them He considers humanity s new technologies and our efforts to manage and understand them especially as they relate to war and peace Placing all in a historical context Malcolmson analyses the politics of the nuclear arms race in relation to the international political culture of the past forty years From this analysis he creates historical depth for contemporary issues and a perspective from which we can decide how to deal with nuclear energy in the future

The Origins of SDI, 1944-1983 Donald R. Baucom, 1992 Most people think Star Wars began with the ideas of Ronald Reagan but its roots reach decades further back In this first scholarly account of the origins of the Strategic Defense Initiative SDI historian Don Baucom traces these roots back to the dawn of the missile age in 1944 He finds SDI emerging after a period of nearly 40 years from forces generated by technological developments changing strategic conditions and the collapse of the SALT arms control negotiations of the 1970s
