Hardman,M. Winston Egan,Elliott D. Landau,1981 Education of Exceptional Children Panda K.C.,1999 This is a basic text on the education of exceptional children covering fundamentals of special education and integrated education for various categories of exceptional children the mentally retarded the hearing handicapped the visually handicapped the learning disabled the slow learner the emotionally disturbed the speech and language handicapped the physically handicapped the gifted and the socially disadvantaged It also covers the genesis of the special education movement in our country policies and programmes critical issues and innovations the rights of the disabled manpower development avenues and research perspectives in education of exceptional children Helping Exceptional Students Succeed in the Regular Classroom Mary Elizabeth D'Zamko,William D. Hedges,1985 Exceptional Students in Regular Classrooms Ted Gloeckler,Carol Simpson,1988 Test Bank to Accompany The Exceptional Student in the Regular Classroom Mel W. Weishahn,1988 The Regular Classroom Teacher's Guide to the Education of the Exceptional Child Toni L. Ruiz,1984 Abstract Since the adoption of public law 94 142 in 1975 the education of exceptional children within the regular classroom environment has become a priority for educators everywhere Due to lack of training and or experience however many regular classroom teachers found themselves unsure of their ability to adequately meet the needs of these special children and frustrated in their attempts to do so Towards alleviating this situation this Guide provides regular classroom teachers with information ideas and hopefully a new more positive direction in the education of exceptional children Specific behavioral characteristics for identification prevalence diagnostic techniques and educational implication for the regular classroom are discussed in relation to speech visual and hearing impairment mental retardation learning disabilities and giftedness Identification assessment and remedial approaches are also discussed for specific problems in reading arithmetic spelling and handwriting Particular emphasis is placed on analyzing how the child learns what his her potential for achievement is and how that potential can be realized within the regular classroom Finally the five major approaches to reading are expanded upon to help the regular classroom teachers select the most appropriate method for each student

Teaching Secondary School Science: Strategies for Developing Scientific Literacy Rodger Bybee, Rodger W. Bybee, Janet Carlson Powell, 2024-06-03 Solidly grounded in current recommendations of the National Science Education Standards this text offers teaching guidance and strategies for physical biological and earth science courses for middle school junior high and high school The authors extensive curriculum development experience imbues the text with a practical focus Their collective knowledge of the field balances coverage of the theory and research behind the strategies they present Also inherent in the text is a description of the role of constructivism in science teaching and the connection between science and society including how technological development is driven by societal needs
