Teaching Large Classes Usable Practices From Around The World:

Teaching Large Classes Mary Cheriau, Rosalind Y. Mau, 2003 This study of teaching large classes faces the reality that millions of teachers and children live in large classes every day in many regions of the world Each chapter author is an experienced educator who seeks to offer something significant to our understanding of large class teaching

Organizing Schools for Productive Learning Shlomo Sharan, Ivy Geok Chin Tan, 2008-06-27 A major problem confronting schools is that many students are turned off from learning and are bored Boredom is destructive of learning The No Child Left Behind NCLB initiative of the US government 2001 stemmed from the claim accompanied by sharp debates pro and con that many schools in the United States fail to achieve basic educational objectives and that many schools are doing a poor job for a wide variety of reasons and surely not just because of student boredom Brigham Gustashaw Wiley Essex 2006 Goodman Shannon Goodman Sunderman Tracey Jr Kim Orfield 2004 The model of school organization and instruction presented here seeks to provide an effective plan for significant improvement in secondary school education one of whose central aims is to make students genuinely engaged in what they are learning The NCLB legislation emphasizes inter alia the need for school improvement Without it one cannot reasonably anticipate improvement over current levels in student engagement in learning and in academic achievement The NCLB literature frequently employs the term school improvement to refer to the quality of the teachers such as their academic credentials instructional competence and their knowledge of subject matter Similarly school restructuring is said to include steps such as transforming the school into a charter school replacing the teaching staff or inviting a private company to administer the school The use of those terms in this work is distinctly different

New Labour/hard Labour? Gerry Mooney, Alex Law, 2007-10-10 This book provides the first critically informed discussion of work and workers in the UK welfare sector under New Labour It examines the changing nature of work and explores the context of industrial relations across the welfare industry

Beyond Rituals and Riots Ah Eng Lai, 2004 This book based on the Institute of Policy Studies Ethnic Relations Project aims to understand the current state and complexity of ethnic pluralism in Singapore and to identify key trends and issues in various areas impacting ethnic pluralism and social cohesion It also seeks to promote professional and public dialogue on important issues based on research findings and recommendations In line with its aims the book is problem and policy driven with a focus on policy implications and where policy meets culture and each chapter concludes with general or specific policy recommendations towards improving ethnic relations and social cohesion All the articles are based on empirical and scholarly research employing multidisciplinary perspectives and a range of methodologies and cover political history legal structural institutions state policies education social services media culture and community

Digital Generations David Buckingham, Rebekah Willett, 2013-10-18 Computer games the Internet and other new communications media are often seen to pose threats and dangers to young people but they also provide new opportunities for creativity and self determination As we start to look beyond the immediate hopes and fears that new technologies often provoke there is a growing need for in depth empirical research Digital Generations presents a range of exciting and challenging new work on children young people and new digital media The book is organized around four key themes Play and Gaming The Internet Identities and Communities Online and Learning and Education The book brings together researchers from a range of academic disciplines including media and cultural studies anthropology sociology psychology and education and will be of interest to a wide readership of researchers students practitioners in digital media and educators

Cosmopolitan Perspectives on Academic Leadership in Higher Education Feng Su, Margaret Wood, 2018-08-23 This book explores what academic leadership in higher education might mean in the cosmopolitan and increasingly globalised 21st century through individual academics narrative accounts drawn from a range of international contexts The book shows that academic leadership is key to an individual s development and that it could mean different things in different settings as academics operate across the levels of professional practice institutional organisation sector wide systems and international networks This book argues for the importance of cosmopolitan perspectives on academic leadership which are developed from the particularities of local and everyday situated experience Part I of the book explores key theoretical perspectives Part II provides first hand accounts from the contributors of their own development as academic leaders and Part III discusses some of the implications for those with responsibility for academic development and for all those concerned with developing the qualities necessary for leadership practices American Indian Quarterly ,2004
