Teaching the Literature of Climate Change Debra J. Rosenthal, 2024-04-26 Over the past several decades writers such as Margaret Atwood Paolo Bacigalupi Octavia E Butler and Kathy Jetn il Kijiner have explored climate change through literature reflecting current anxieties about humans impact on the planet Emphasizing the importance of interdisciplinarity this volume embraces literature as a means to cultivate students understanding of the ongoing climate crisis ethics in times of disaster and the intrinsic intersectionality of environmental issues Contributors discuss speculative climate futures the Anthropocene postcolonialism climate anxiety and the usefulness of storytelling in engaging with catastrophe The essays offer approaches to teaching interdisciplinary and cross listed courses including strategies for team teaching across disciplines and for building connections between humanities majors and STEM majors The volume concludes with essays that explore ways to address grief and to contemplate a hopeful future in the face of apocalyptic predictions Visions of the Wasteland in "Maze Runner". The Scorch Trials as Climate Fiction Sara Bauer, 2023-12-08 Seminar paper from the year 2023 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 Humboldt University of Berlin Anglistik Amerikanistik course Genre Fiction language English abstract This seminar paper will deep dive into the origins of climate fiction and the imagery used in the novel as well as compare it to current realities to unveil how The Scorch Trials serves as an allegory of the pressing issues of climate change and a possible future we might face and why it can be categorized as cli fi Is climate fiction merely a subgenre of science fiction or could we already classify it as a genre of its own How do we understand the cultural context of such narratives and what realities do climate fiction draw from A link to James Dasher s novel Maze Runner The Scorch Trials is to be made by looking into dystopian narratives and current pressing climate issues portrayed in The Maze Runner Scorch Trials through climate fiction narration

Critical Survey of Long Fiction: Thomas McGuane-J.B. Priestley, 2000 Yiddish, 1995 EIB-information, 2014-03 Dr. Dobb's Journal, 2006 Fictionalizing Terra Rachel Be-Yun Wang, 2020 This thesis uses the narrative genre of climate fiction as a mode of critique in the 2019 blockbuster science fiction film Wandering Earth to consider how it deals with eco optimism I started considering the speculative aspect of climate fiction a subgenre of science fiction as a discursive site when I encountered an institutional subset of the art world that engages with environmental activism and design that relies on real world specificities yet materially overlook their relation to systems around them When Wandering Earth was released in theatres popular discussion around the film curiously revealed similar attitudes Wandering Earth doesn't take the stance of standard cli fi narratives the responsibility for the earth is due to sun induced climate change not human induced climate change The film operates in a similar way to how some of these artists and designers think I use climate fiction's formal ambiguity and flexibility as critical framework for what doesn't neatly belong under climate fiction but perhaps relies on it By colliding climate fiction with fictionalized climates I hope to demonstrate the possibilities of differentiated interpretation using climate fiction as a genre of critique
