The Urbanization Of The Earth:

The Urbanization of the Earth Jorge Arango, 1970 Urbanization of the earth Wolf Tietze, 1977 Global Urban Monitoring and Assessment through Earth Observation Qihao Weng, 2014-05-23

Cities and towns are the original producers of many of the global environmental problems related to waste disposal and air and water pollution. There is a rapidly growing need for technologies that will enable monitoring of the world's natural resources and urban assets and managing exposure to natural and man-made risks. The Group on Earth Observation GEO calls for strengthening the cooperation and coordination among global observing systems and research programs. Global Urban Monitoring and Assessment through Earth Observation introduces this important international collaborative effort, reviews the current state of global urban remote sensing, and expands on future directions in the field. The book reviews the current state of global urban monitoring, assessment, modeling, and prediction through Earth observation and related technologies. It then introduces GEO's important international collaborative effort, Global Urban Observation and Information Task, and the current state of global urban remote sensing and future directions. It explores groundbreaking work in urban remote sensing and examines how it could contribute to the development of innovative concepts and techniques for sustainable urban development. Despite significant progress in recent years, there remain substantial gaps in ongoing national, regional, and global efforts to address environmental challenges. Edited by a well-known expert in the field of remote sensing, GIS, and other geospatial technologies, this book addresses the gaps in an effective and long-term manner, highlighting the importance of increased coordination and networking among major stakeholders and of working together with other key international mechanisms. Drawing on the expertise of pioneers in the field from across the globe, the book details emerging research in the theory, methods, and techniques of urban remote sensing that provide insight into how to solve the major issues of sustainable development, one of the most important issues facing society in the future.

Scientific Satellite and Moon-Based Earth Observation for Global Change Huadong Guo, Wenxue Fu, Guang Liu, 2019-06-27

Global change involves complex and far-reaching variations in the Earth's systems, and satellite observations have been widely used in global change studies. Over the past five decades, Earth observation has developed into a comprehensive system that can conduct dynamic monitoring of the land, the oceans, and the atmosphere at the local, regional, and even global scale. At the same time, although a large number of Earth observation satellites have been launched, very few of them are used in global change studies. The lack of scientific satellite programs greatly hinders research on global change. This book proposes using a series of global change scientific satellites to establish a scientific observation grid for global environmental change monitoring from space and offers the first comprehensive review of lunar-based Earth observation. These scientific satellites could provide not only basic datasets but also scientific support in facilitating advances in international global change research.
